

HARD MONEY.

The question of returning to specie payment in the United States is now occupying the attention of all the papers from Maine to California, and both sides of the case are being well ventilated. In some of the Eastern States it has been made a political issue. But while in some States it meets with violent opposition from those who do not know the advantages and safety caused by a tangible currency, the hard money advocates are rapidly gaining ground throughout the length and breadth of the Union. The Bank of California's failure, coming at this time, is very opportune, for it shows that there must be some intrinsic value in gold and silver that published money does not possess. The resumption of business of the Bank of California is an established fact. During the last few months several greenback banks in the East have failed, but in no case have they resumed operations. Put the fact that the only hard money bank that has failed for the year does recover from its shock, and you have a practical illustration of the stability of the one and the uncertainty of the other. We confidently expect to see an era of prosperity inaugurated when gold and silver becomes the circulating medium in the entire United States, and every indication seems to warrant the supposition.

OUT OF DEBT.

Lord Yarmouth, of England, who died the other day, didn't owe a shilling to any one.—Ex.

This item is refreshing after one has read so much about the spendthrift habits of so many of the "blue blood" of Europe. While this Lord was paying his honest debts and living within his income, his Prince was spending money enough to build several transcontinental railroads and bankrupting his mother, who sacrificed her private purse to save the honor of the family. There is entirely too much liberty given to those royal elephants. If a common hard-working mechanic was to fall behind in his cash account, he would soon find a speedy punishment, while his lordly master may daily squander fortunes. The social scale reads equalizing in the courts of justice, as well in America as in England or any other European country. All honor to one, however, who paid his debts.

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL.

The WEEKLY JOURNAL, published every Saturday, will be furnished to those desiring it at $4.00 per year in advance. It will contain the local news of the week, a careful summary of the State, Pacific Coast and mining news, together with a variety of miscellaneous and editorial matter, containing more reading than any weekly paper ever published in the county. Those desiring to subscribe for the WEEKLY JOURNAL will please call at the publication office.

Vice-President Wilson, one of the shrewdest and most enlightened politicians in the United States, in his last interview with a reporter at New York, says he believes the financial question will not control the next Presidential election, as both parties are divided on it, and each will declare in favor of a sound currency. The Vice-President regards the third term as a dead issue.

MEMORIAL HONORS.—The funeral obsequies of the late Ex-President Johnson, to be celebrated in Nashville, Tenn., on Saturday, October 24, promises to be one of the greatest demonstrations in the annals of Tennessee. One of the features of the procession will be a handsomely decorated wagon containing thirty-seven young ladies, representing the different States in the Union, clad in noble garments. President Grant and the leading men of all sections of the country will be invited to honor the occasion with their presence, and men of all parties will participate in the affair. Gen. Pennypacker, commanding the United States barracks at Nashville, has been selected as Chief Marshal of the day.

A CRACKED PATE.—Yesterday afternoon while the emigrant train was standing at the depot a woman began to make considerable noise and abused the Conductor and the Railroad Company in very certain terms. It seems that she had bought a ticket from the East to San Francisco, but had had her baggage checked to Reno. The Conductor took her ticket and hence the row. Several men, who were emigrating, took her part and were going to shed blood in torrents if that ticket was not refunded. One of them was particularly fierce and made many threatening demonstrations. A policeman who happened near asked him why he made so much noise and he received a very snappy answer from the emigrant, who made a motion as if to draw a pistol. He received a quietus in the shape of a "billy" on the side of the head, which made the claret fly. This cooled the heated individual and he gladly went off on the train. The ticket was not forthcoming, however.—Journal, Sept. 16th.

This emigrant woman and the man who took her part began their objection to being robbed at the wrong end of the tether, that is all. Here is a traveler who purchases a ticket which gives her the privilege of the Central Pacific Railway, its coaches, stopping places, etc. She might have stopped over, indefinitely, at Reno, and her ticket would have been left unexercised in her hands, and been good, for all time if she had not happened to have a trunk so checked as to circumvent the Railway Company. The ticket was her own, to do what she pleased with, because she bought it and paid for it. Her trunk is her own and she has a right to have it checked to what point she chooses on the line of a railway the right to travel whose entire length is her own, as attested by her ticket. We know the reason why the Central Pacific Company set up as an excuse for this wretcheding from their passengers the rights and privileges growing out of their purchase of tickets, and it is a very flimsy, selfish and inadequate reason. They have devised a plan of discriminating way rates, as against through rates; and if they permitted through passengers to check off their baggage where and when they pleased, they might be troubled to enforce their discriminations. But what are their troubles to the public? Under what special obligations is this emigrant woman to discommodate herself to please the Central Pacific Company? Are not her technical rights as valid as the Company's arbitrary rules? We are unqualifiedly of the opinion that the conductor who kept this woman's ticket was guilty of no less a forcible robbery than if he had seized her purse or her watch. By what rules of law or equity does this woman's through ticket become confiscated to the Railway Company? What has the checking of her trunk to do with her right of ownership in a ticket she has bought and paid for? The community is interested in seeing this matter sifted to the bottom in a court of justice; and we hope that this woman may secure good advice and go to law with this insolent Company and have her case pressed through to a final and conclusive determination.—Carson Appeal, Sept. 16th.

There are a large number of persons out of employment at present in this city and Gold Hill. The tightness of the money market and the low water in the Carson river, which has led some of the mines to discharge part of their force, are the causes of the present difficulty men experience in obtaining work. The town has not an excess of population, as was the case last Winter and Spring, when the fame of the bonanza brought thousands of persons to the Comstock. Most of these having found it impossible to make a fortune here in a few weeks, as they had been led to expect they would, migrated to other regions. The present stringency is only temporary, for the mines look as well, as ever, and it is likely that later in the Fall times will again be as lively as usual.—Virginia Chronicle, 16th.

JOHN SUNDERLAND STILL AHEAD.—John Sunderland has just returned from San Francisco with the largest and best selected stock of boots and shoes ever brought to Reno. He has goods to suit all prices and all people. He has a fine assortment of children's school shoes, which give more satisfaction than any shoe ever brought to this town. He is selling boots and shoes at panic prices. Call at his store and examine for yourself. He has also on hand and for sale, a fine assortment of shoemaker's findings, which he offers to the trade at a small advance over San Francisco prices.

Removed.—The Mission Vases are now located on Virginia street, next door to the photograph gallery. They will receive at their dressing establishment and make to order in the latest styles, all kinds of plain and fancy sewing.

SELLING OUT AT COST.—Mrs. McNulty offers her entire stock of goods for sale, at cost, for cash. The ladies of Reno and vicinity will do well to call early and secure bargains, which will be had for cash.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

Maine shows a Republican majority of 1,089.

There are destructive floods in the south of France.

Pow rents have dropped twenty per cent in Brooklyn.

The trial of Wm. Westervelt for the abduction of Charley Ross has not developed anything so far.

The San Francisco Benevolent Association has aided an average of four hundred and fifty persons a month for the past six months.

A Decatur, Ala., special says an organized band of counterfeiters have been detected. Among them are several wealthy and prominent citizens of the State.

The Prismatic or one-rail railroad completed from Houston to San Antonio, Texas, is now open for traffic. Japan is building one of the same kind that will be 500 miles long.

In the town of Milton, Florida, near Pensacola, the population of which is 54, there are 38 cases of yellow fever and 11 fatal. At West Pascagoula, 100 miles from New Orleans, there are 70 cases and 15 deaths the past week.

For the past year the San Francisco mint has coined $40,527,000, being the largest amount it has coined for twenty years. The silver amounted to $4,327,000, more than half of which is intended to take the place of shinplasters.

Walking horse races have come into usage at western fairs. It is urged in favor of such contests that horses able to walk at the rate of four or five miles an hour are of more value to farmers, for farm work, than those that can trot a mile in twenty.

Ajax was expelled from the Stockton course, during the late races, for non-appearance. This debarred him from every track in the State, and in the United States governed by the national rules.

There can be no longer any reasonable doubt that the Bank of California will resume about the 1st of October, and on the 4th the Bank of Nevada will unlock its well-stocked vaults.

No Presidential Aspirations.

The newspapers East are speculating as to who will be the next Republican candidate for President, and as the name of Charles Francis Adams has been freely used in that connection it drew from him the following line letter to a gentleman in Brooklyn:

MY DEAR SIR: I can not but be deeply moved by the voluntary expressions of esteem which I occasionally find in the newspapers in reference to myself. I trust they may not have the effect of turning my head or making me think of myself better than I ought to think. With regard to the suggestion made in the article to which you call my attention, I am sure it would be very agreeable to me to undertake the work, but I have, I fear, already in my hands quite as much as I can dare to hope to accomplish during my term of life. Approaching so near the three score and ten prescribed as the limit of usefulness, as I do, I shall have to make haste or run great risk of leaving matters in confusion. It is for this reason that I have been perhaps too indifferent to the wishes of many who have desired to have me called again into public life. I see nothing there just now which promises happy results within a short time. Meanwhile, I am steadily releasing myself from the responsibility. If not writing history I am at least putting out of reach of accident the valuable material for writing it which have been placed in my hands, or which I have gathered in my own career. I doubt whether I could be made more useful to the world in any other way. Pray excuse me for this egotism, and believe me, as ever, truly yours, CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.

LYNCH LAW.—A dispatch from Cherry Creek, dated the 16th, tells the fate of the Indian who killed Teahand, and caused the late Indian scare, in these words:

A messenger in from Spring Valley reports that a small party of Indians came in on Tuesday and surrounded the Indian who killed the white man to Gleen, Indian Agent. Gleen turned the prisoner over to Lieutenant Jaeger for safe keeping. A party of white men took the prisoner from Jaeger and hung him. The Indian confessed to the killing of Teahand. The Indians are said to be satisfied, and it is thought that all trouble is over. The cavalry in command Colonel Sumner are marching down Spring Valley and will reach Cleveland's by noon to-day.

Two mills have commenced operations at Panamint, and the result of their operations fully demonstrates the great value of the mines, as well as the fact that the ores can be readily worked.
